DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

This communication is responsive to the amendment filed on 10/03/2007.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

4. Claim 1 recites the limitation "the second source" in line 5. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kubota (US Patent 5,056,090, hereinafter Kubota) in the view of Bell et al. (US Patent 4,719,625)

Regarding claim 1, Kubota discloses a method for a system including a plurality of encoders (23) each for receiving a first signal (24, 25) and encoding to generate a respective second signal for sending to a respective subscriber, the method comprising:

receiving, in each encoder, the first signal from a first source, while testing a signal path between the second source and the encoders; and subsequently a second receiving step of receiving the first signal from a second source (Fig. 3, Col. 3, lines 21. – 54). Kubota discloses a method where a source transmitted a first signal while testing (data check) a signal path between a second source and the transmission controller that is considered as an encoder. This is substantially the same function as the instant application.

Kubota does clearly teach the step of receiving the first signal from a second source. However, Bell teaches a method of receiving a first signal from a second source (Abstract).

Therefore, It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching of Bell into the teaching of Kubota in order to detect an error during the step of receiving the signal (Abstract).
